A

General Instructions

The FR 2886b report must be filed by each Edge and agreement corporation organized under Section 25 or 25(a) of the Federal Reserve Act. All information should reflect the consolidation of all branches, and underlying subsidiary companies.

tion on consolidation, accrual basis reporting, and generally accepted accounting principles.

Inactive corporations should report only if the corporation has engaged in some business activity at one time. Corporations, such as a name saver organizations, that have never engaged in any business activity should not report.

Reporting Basis

As noted above, the report should cover the consolidated operations of the reporting corporation, including:

- (1) the reporting corporation's head office;
- (2) any branch offices of the reporting corporation;
- (3) any International Banking Facility (IBF) established by the reporting corporation at the head office and at any branch offices;
- (4) all majority-owned foreign banks held directly by the reporting corporation pursuant to Section 25(a) of the Federal Reserve Act;
- (5) all majority-owned subsidiaries of the reporting corporation that are significant, EXCEPT subsidiary Edge or agreement corporations;
- (6) all nonsignificant majority-owned subsidiaries that the bank has elected to consolidate on a consistent basis.

Where this report collects information on a branch office separately, such information should include balances of an IBF of only that branch office. Assets and liabilities may be reported on a net basis in this report whenever the reporting organization has a "right of setoff." See the entry for Offsetting in the Definitions section for further information. Also see the FFIEC 031 General Instructions for further informa-

Submission Date and Reporting Frequency

An Edge or agreement corporation must file the FR 2886b report quarterly if total consolidated assets of the corporation exceed $50 million. An Edge or agreement corporation with total consolidated assets of $50 million or less must file the FR 2886b report annually as of December 31.

If an Edge or agreement corporation meets the criteria above to file quarterly as of June 30 of the preceding year, the corporation must file the FR 2886b quarterly beginning in March of the current year. In addition, if the corporation meets the quarterly criteria due to a business combination, then it must report the FR 2886b quarterly beginning with the first quarterly report date following the effective date of the business combination. Once a corporation begins filing the FR 2886b quarterly, it should file a complete FR 2886b quarterly report going forward. If the Edge or agreement corporation does not meet the quarterly filing criteria for four consecutive quarters, then the corporation may revert to annual filing. Edge and agreement corporations that do not meet the quarterly filing threshold may be requested to file quarterly if the Federal Reserve Bank has determined that these corporations have significant risk exposures.

The term "submission date" is defined as the date by which an Edge corporation's completed original report must be received by the district Federal Reserve Bank.

General Instructions

An official copy (non-facsimile) of the FR 2886b consisting of the balance sheet, memorandum item, and all schedules for domestic and foreign offices of banking and nonbanking Edges should reach the Federal Reserve Bank of the District in which the reporting office is domiciled, no later than 30 calendar days after the close of business of the last calendar day of the quarter or year-end date for annual filers (subject to the timely filing provisions set forth in the following paragraph).

The filing of an Edge corporation's completed original report will be considered timely, regardless of when the reports are received by the district Reserve Bank, if these reports are mailed first class and postmarked no later than the third calendar day preceding the submission deadline. In the absence of a postmark, a corporation whose completed original report is received late may be called upon to provide proof of timely mailing. A "Certificate of Mailing" (U.S. Postal Service Form 3817) may be used to provide such proof. If an overnight delivery service is used, entry of the completed original report into the delivery system on the day before the submission deadline will constitute timely submission. In addition, the hand delivery of the completed original reports, on or before the submission deadline, to the location to which the report would otherwise be mailed is an acceptable alternative to mailing such reports. Corporations that are unable to obtain the required directors' signatures on their completed original reports in sufficient time to file these reports so that they are received by the submission deadline may contact the district Reserve Bank to which they mail their original reports to arrange for the timely submission of their report data and the subsequent filing of their signed reports.

15-day extension. A respondent may take an additional 15 calendar days to submit its completed report. Such banks are urged to use the additional time only if absolutely necessary and to make every effort to report as soon as possible, preferably within the 30-day submission period.

Signatures and Attestation

The original of the report shall be manually signed on the cover sheet of the submitted report, in the manner indicated on the cover sheet, by a duly authorized officer of the reporting institution. By signing the cover page of this report, the authorized officer acknowledges that any knowing and willful misrepresentation or omission of a material fact on this report constitutes fraud in the inducement and may subject the officer to legal sanctions provided by 18 USC 1001 and 1007. Signatures need not be notarized. All copies shall bear the same signatures as on the original, but these signatures may be facsimiles or photocopies.

All items in the report should be expressed in States dollars. Assets or liabilities payable in other currencies should be converted into dollars at the exchange rate prevailing on the report date.

Item captions in the report should be amended, nor should an amount or the word "in" be added below, negative entries are not to be reported in net form and shall not be reported in credit balances must be reported in debit balances with debit balances, as appropriate, and instructions. If the submission deadline falls on a weekend or holiday, the report must be received on the first business day after the Saturday, Sunday, or holiday. Earlier submission aids the Federal Reserve in reviewing and processing the reports.

Confidentiality

The Federal Reserve System regards as confidential the following portions of this report: for respondents engaged in banking, Schedules RC-M (except item 3) and RC-V; for respondents not engaged in banking, Schedule RC-M (except item 3). If it should be determined subsequently that any confidential information collected on this form must be released, respondents will be notified.

Check Box. Institutions must select on page 1 of the form whether any confidential treatment is requested for any portion of the report. If the answer to the first question is “Yes,” the Reporter must indicate whether a letter justifying the request for confidential treatment is included with the submission or has been provided separately. If an institution does not fulfill both requirements, or does not check the appropriate boxes, confidential treatment will not be considered.

Note: Responses to the questions regarding confidential treatment on page 1 of the form will be considered public information.

Detailed Instructions

Some items on the balance sheet are also reported on supporting schedules. Detailed instructions for those items are found in those schedules. The content of items on the balance sheet should be identical to the content of the same items on the supporting schedules even though submission of the schedules may not be required. See the General Instructions to determine whether the supporting schedules are required.

This report and accompanying instructions have been designed to generally conform with the form and instructions to the Consolidated Reports of Condition and Income (FFIEC 031) that U.S. banks prepare quarterly and submit to their U.S. regulatory agencies. Unless expressly stated otherwise, the definitions and procedures used to determine individual items in this report should conform with those used to prepare the FFIEC 031 report. In some instances, where an FR 2886b item is identical to an item reported on the FFIEC 031, only a reference to the corresponding item(s) in the FFIEC 031 instructions is contained in brackets. For purposes of these line item instructions, the FASB Accounting Standards Codification is referred to as “ASC.” Both the reporting office totals and the IBF-only columns must be completed if the office has IBF balances.

Banking vs. Nonbanking Designation

All respondents must designate whether their corporation is a banking or nonbanking type in the box on the front page of the report form. A corporation is considered to be “engaged in banking” if it is ordinarily engaged in the business of accepting deposits in the U.S. from nonrelated organizations, whether directly or through its branch offices.

Include incidental fee income from such transactions. # Schedule RI-B

Line Item 2 Recoveries.

Line Item 4 Adjustments, net.

Report the net cumulative effect of all corrections and adjustments made in any amended report(s) to the amount originally reported as the ending balance of the allowances in this report for the previous year-end period. Such adjustments would include changes to the reserves caused by mergers or acquisitions and any transfers between the four reserves authorized by Subpart D of Federal Reserve Regulation K and any related guidelines, letters, instructions issued by the Federal Reserve, or any additional allowances required upon or subsequent to the adoption of ASU 2016-13.

Line Item 5 Less: charge-offs.

Enter in the appropriate column the amount of gross charge-offs on financial assets and for transfer risk purposes during the period.

Line Item 6 Balance at end of current period.

Report the sum of items 1, 2, 3, and 4, minus item 5. The amount reported in column A must equal the amount reported in Schedule RC through 4.

Memoranda

Memoranda items 1 ~~and 2~~ are only to be completed by institutions that have adopted ASU 2016-13.

Line Item M1 Provisions for credit losses on other financial assets measured at amortized cost (not included in item 3 above).

Report in this line item provisions related to allowances for credit losses on financial assets measured at amortized cost, included in Schedule RI, item 4(a), other than loans, leases, held-to-maturity debt securities, and available-for-sale debt securities.

Line Item M2 Allowances for credit losses on other financial assets measured at amortized cost (not included in item 6 above).

Report in this line item total allowances related to credit losses on financial assets measured at amortized cost other than loans, leases, held-to-maturity debt securities, and available-for-sale debt securities that are associated with the provisions reported in Memorandum item 1, above.

← See Insert A

Line Item M3 Provisions for credit losses on off-balance-sheet credit exposures.

Report in this item the year-to-date amount of provisions for credit losses (or reversals of provisions) on off-balance-sheet credit exposures included in the amount reported in Schedule RI, item 4(a). Provisions for credit losses (or reversals of provisions) on off-balance-sheet credit exposures represent the amounts necessary to adjust the related allowance for credit losses at the quarter-end report date for management's current estimate of expected credit losses on these exposures.

Line Item M4 Estimated amount of expected recoveries of amounts previously written off<sup>1</sup> included within the allowance for credit losses on loans and leases held for investment (included in item 6, column A, "Balance at end of current period").

Report in this item the estimated amount of expected recoveries of amounts previously written off included within the allowance for credit losses on loans and leases held for investment. This item applies to loans and leases held for investment, including purchased credit deteriorated loans held for investment, and does not apply to held-to-maturity debt securities or available-for-sale debt securities.

Expected recoveries of amounts previously written off shall be included in the allowance for credit losses and shall not exceed the aggregate of amounts previously written off and expected to be written off by an institution. However, exclude from this item the estimated amount of expected recoveries of amounts expected to be written off included in the allowance for credit losses.

In accordance with ASU 2016-13, estimated expected recoveries are a component of management's estimation of the net amount expected to be collected for a financial asset or a pool of financial assets if an institution can support an estimate of expected recoveries for a pool of unsecured loans, each of which was deemed uncollectible and fully written off on an individual asset basis, the institution reduces the allowance for credit losses by the institution's estimate of recoveries expected on a pool basis.

<sup>1</sup> The term "written off" as used in ASU 2016-13 and in the instructions for this item is used interchangeably with the term "charged off," which is used elsewhere in the FR Y-9C instructions.

Acceptances acquired by the reporter through purchase or discount and held as of the report date should be excluded and reported as loans in Assets, Item 4, “Loans and lease financing receivables, net;” and included in Schedule RC-C. Liabilities for letters of credit issued for money or its equivalent should be reported as deposits. Participation of acceptances does not reduce the accepting Edge’s obligation to honor the full amount of the acceptance. 2016-13 should exclude allowances for credit losses on off-balance sheet exposures that are unconditionally cancellable.

Equity capital represents the sum of capital stock, surplus, undivided profits, and various reserve accounts. Also include any reserves for contingencies and other capital reserves, such as reserves for undeclared dividends or dividends payable in capital stock, reserves for retirement of preferred capital notes or dividend profits, and any reserve for contingencies. This last item represents amounts set aside for possible unforeseen or indeterminate liabilities not otherwise reflected on the corporation's books and not covered by insurance—including, for example, amounts reserved for possible losses resulting from lawsuits, possible default on obligations on which the reporting organization is contingently liable, or other potential claims against the corporation. A reserve for contingencies should not include any element of known loss or losses, the amount of which can be estimated with reasonable accuracy.

Line Item 24 Accumulated other comprehensive income.

Report the accumulated balance of other comprehensive income in accordance with ASC Subtopic 220-10, Comprehensive Income—Overall (formerly FASB Statement No. 130, Reporting Comprehensive Income). “Other comprehensive income” refers to revenues, expenses, gains, and losses that under generally accepted accounting principles are included in comprehensive income but excluded from net income. LINE ITEM INSTRUCTIONS FOR

Past Due and Nonaccrual Loans, Leases and Other Assets

Schedule RC-N

(4) Unplanned overdrafts are to be reported as past due if the account remains continuously overdrawn for 30 days or more.

Examples of assets reportable as past due include, but are not limited to, the following:

General Instructions

This schedule must be completed by all Edge corporations and all agreement corporations.

The reporting corporation should report all loans, lease financing receivables and any other assets booked at the head office and any consolidated offices that are past due or are in nonaccrual status, regardless of whether such credits are secured or unsecured and regardless of whether they are guaranteed by others.

Loan amounts should be reported held for investment to the extent that the same categories of loans are reported held for investment in Schedule RC-C. Report the full outstanding balances of loans or other assets that are past due or in nonaccrual status, not simply the delinquent payments. Include such assets as debt securities and interest-bearing balances due from depository institutions. Exclude other real estate owned and other repossessed assets, such as automobiles, boats, equipment, appliances, and similar personal property.

Institutions that have adopted ASU 2016-13, which governs the accounting for credit losses, should report financial assets without any deduction for allowance for credit losses.

Past Due

For the purposes of this report, grace periods allowed by the corporation after a loan technically has become past due but before the imposition of late charges are not to be considered in determining past due status. Furthermore, loans, lease financing receivables and monthly payments. (Thirty days may be used as a proxy for a month.) Other multipayment obligations with payments scheduled other than monthly are to be reported as past due when one scheduled payment is due and unpaid for 30 days or more.

(2) Open-end credit such as check credit and other revolving credit plans are to be reported as past due when the customer has not made the minimum payment for two or more billing cycles.

(3) Amortizing real estate loans are to be reported as past due when the borrower is in arrears two or more monthly payments. (Reporters may use 30 days as a proxy for a month if they prefer.) Such obligations with payments scheduled other than monthly are to be reported as past due when one scheduled payment is due and unpaid for 30 days or more.

1. (4) Single payment and demand notes providing for the payment of interest at stated intervals are to be reported as past due after one interest payment is due and unpaid for 30 days or more. principal and/or

2. (5) Single payment notes providing for the payment of interest at maturity are to be reported as past due after maturity if interest or principal remains unpaid for 30 days or more.

(6) ~~Unplanned overdrafts are to be reported as past due if the account remains continuously overdrawn for 30 days or more.~~

For purposes of this report, a full payment in computing past due status for consumer installment loans (both closed-end and open-end) is defined to include a partial payment equivalent to 90 percent or more of the contractual payment.

(3) A loan or other asset on which interest and/or principal remains unpaid for 30 days or more and which the institution is in the process of renewing, extending, or modifying in a manner that would change required payment dates, should be reported as past due if the renewal, extension, or modification has not been executed and become effective.

due when the borrower is in arrears two or more

Schedule RC-N

Note: The time period used for reporting past due status as indicated above may not in all instances conform to those used by federal bank regulators in bank examinations.

Nonaccrual

For the purposes of this report, loans, lease financing receivables and any other assets are to be reported as being in nonaccrual status if: (1) they are maintained on a cash basis because of deterioration in the financial position of the borrower, (2) payment in full of interest or principal is not expected, or (3) principal or interest has been in default for a period of 90 days or more unless the obligation is both well-secured and in the process of collection. A nonaccrual asset may be restored to an accrual status when none of its principal or interest is due and unpaid or when it otherwise becomes well-secured and is in the process of collection.

For purposes of applying the third test for the nonaccrual of interest listed above, the date on which an asset reaches nonaccrual status is determined by its contractual terms. If the principal or interest on an asset becomes due and unpaid for 90 days or more on a date that falls between report dates, the asset should be placed in nonaccrual status as of the date it becomes 90 days past due and should remain in nonaccrual status until it meets the criteria for restoration to accrual status described above.

A debt is “well-secured” if it is secured (1) by collateral in the form of liens on, or pledges of, real or personal property, including securities, that have a realizable value sufficient to discharge the debt in full, or (2) by the guarantee of a financially responsible party. A debt is “in the process of collection” if collection of the debt is proceeding in due course either through legal action, including judgment enforcement procedures, or, in appropriate circumstances, through collection efforts that do not involve legal actions, provided they are reasonably expected to result in repayment of the debt or in its restoration to a current status.

~~For purposes of this report, a troubled debt restructuring is a restructuring of a loan in which the corporation, for economic or legal reasons related to a borrower’s financial difficulties, grants a concession to the borrower that it would not otherwise consider. For~~

~~purposes of this report, the concession consists of a modification of terms, such as a reduction of the loan’s stated interest rate, principal, or accrued interest or an extension of the loan’s maturity date at a stated interest rate lower than the current market rate for new debt with similar risk, regardless of whether the loan is secured or unsecured and regardless of whether the loan is guaranteed by the government or by others.~~

~~Once an obligation has been restructured in a troubled debt restructuring, it continues to be considered a troubled debt restructuring until paid in full or otherwise settled, sold, or charged off. However, if a restructured obligation is in compliance with its modified terms and the restructuring agreement specifies an interest rate that at the time of the restructuring is greater than or equal to the rate that the corporation was willing to accept for a new extension of credit with comparable risk, the loan need not continue to be reported as a troubled debt restructuring in calendar years after the year in which the restructuring took place. A loan extended or renewed at a stated interest rate equal to the current interest rate for new debt with similar risk is not considered a troubled debt restructuring. Also, a loan to a third-party purchaser of “other real estate owned” by the reporting corporation for the purpose of facilitating the disposal of such real estate is not considered a troubled debt restructuring.~~ from sources outside the corporation. Only if the customer's domicile is not readily ascertainable from the reporter's own files, or from other sources, may the account address be used for determining whether a customer is "U.S." or "foreign."

Definitions

Annuity

An investment product, typically underwritten by an insurance company, that pays either a fixed or variable payment stream over a specified period of time. Both proprietary and private label mutual funds and annuities are established in order to be marketed primarily to a corporation's customers.

Commercial Banks in the U.S.

For purposes of this report, a commercial bank is any legal entity chartered as a commercial bank and/or trust company by the U.S. or a unit of government of the U.S., or a private or industrial bank engaged in banking, and located in the U.S. (exclude any foreign branches thereof). For this report, include (unless specified separately) (1) U.S. agencies and branches of foreign banks; (2) Edge and agreement corporations that are organized under provisions of Section 25 or 25(a) of the Federal Reserve Act; and (3) investment companies engaged in banking and chartered under Article XII by the State of New York that are majority-owned by one or more foreign banks or by foreign official institutions.

Excess Balance Account

An excess balance account (EBA) is a limited-purpose account at a Federal Reserve Bank established for maintaining the excess balances of one or more depository institutions (participants) that are eligible to earn interest on balances held at the Federal Reserve Banks. An EBA is managed by another depository institution that has its own account at a Federal Reserve Bank (such as a participant's pass-through correspondent) and acts as an agent on behalf of the participants. Balances in an EBA represent a liability of a Federal Reserve Bank directly to the EBA participants and not to the agent. The Federal Reserve Banks pay interest on the average balance in the EBA over a 7-day maintenance period and the agent disburses that interest to each participant in accordance with the instructions of the participant. Only a participant's excess balances may be placed in an EBA; the account balance cannot be used to satisfy the participant's reserve balance requirements or contractual clearing agreements.

The reporting of an EBA by participants and agents differs from the required reporting of a pass-through reserve relationship, which is described in the Definitions section for "pass-through reserve balances."

A participant's balance in an EBA is to be treated as a claim on a Federal Reserve Bank (not as a claim on the agent) and, as such, should be reported on the balance sheet in Schedule RC, item 1(b), "Interest-bearing balances" due from depository institutions. For risk-based capital purposes, the participant's balance in an EBA is accorded a zero percent risk weight. A participant should not include its balance in an EBA in Schedule RC, item 3, "Federal funds sold."

The balances in an EBA should not be reflected as an asset or a liability on the balance sheet of the depository institution that acts as the agent for the EBA. Thus, the agent should not include the balances in the EBA in Schedule RC, item 1(b), "Interest-bearing balances" due from depository institutions; Schedule RC, item 12(b), "Total Interest-bearing deposits"; or Schedule RC-A, item 4, "Balances due from Federal Reserve Banks."
