Your comment: The governmental body of this institution, has become a blight on the human experience and capacity to insure independence. By continuing to pump the biased correlation between financial wealth and success. We see the widespread psychological effect on the population, your continued success will further hinder human progress and inability to accept the mathematical proof of human equality. Nobody is more equal than the other. This Includes you, I pray that God has Mercy on your souls for the continued spread of corruption and global destruction lies primarily on your collective shoulders. May you wake the fuck up and realize how much this organization has caused detriment to the entire world of Life that we inhabit together. Peace be upon you as god dictates although I personally believe you deserve equal torment in the next life for the damage you have caused throughout history. Sincerely, "The Average Joe" Whom you believe has less value then yourselves through your actions.
