Your comment: I think it's wonderful opportunity to expand hours but I thought they couldn't transfer that amount. a large amount. My checking is a personal checking and from I gather personal checking has a limit of transfer. the banker didn't want to take time to open a business I would have to come back another day and nearest bank is over 190 miles round trip. i explained that. And having ran my social I didn't qualify for a better checking account. its so hard dealing with personal when you have a poor credit score. but all in all the fed offers plenty of opportunity for your cash. ji wasn't getting the emails. the work emails don't show up. and when I send emails out they never send also stay in draft.so frustrateing. cant wait to buy a computer instead of a cheap phone. thank you fir your patience and security..Do they get transfered to Treasury or my personal checking account? So much easier to fed cash and pick up at bank of your will with my crediantials. i don't even trust mail. they can foward mail online. security is a huge deal that I try so hard to keep secure. any ideas how transfers will be best? Thanks.
