Your comment: Should a dinosaur try to compete with newer technologies that already do the same job better, faster and cheaper 24/7? Would the Fed even be asking this question if decentralized crypto markets weren't already filling this gap? The Fed's inflationary monetary policy is immoral (www.pmbug.com/threads/the-immorality-of-central-bank-fiat-monetary-systems.6423/). It's past time that We the People demanded free competition in money. It's time to go GAULT: www.pmbug.com/threads/gold-as-unpegged-legal-tender.5705/
