Your comment: Yes good afternoon officers but my question is Why would you have recessions when you just have to turn on printers and print money? Unless you run out of paper, is it just like a movie to have some sort of control! I don't get it America can't go broke if you have paper and tint I believe unless money isn't valid anymore; my second question is how did the conversion of gold for paper and metal took placed? Was it from one day to another. You can't run out of money; money devaluation like how if you give money it's value, a 20 could be 50 instead and viceversa.
