

Mail Scams Script
Federal Reserve Board

NARRATOR. Have you received an official looking letter in the mail, supposedly from the Federal Reserve Bank of New York – or even the Chairman of the Federal Reserve – saying you’re owed a massive amount of money and all you have to do is call a number to give some vital information and pay a transfer fee before they release it to you?

DO NOT call that number!

It’s a scam! An attempt to steal your personal information.

If you think your personal information has been compromised, contact your bank and local law enforcement immediately.
